

FEDERAL HOUSING POLICY: MHP ANNOUNCES TWO NEW RESOURCES FOR MINNESOTA

- Federal Housing Pages: To track federal housing programs and resources
- Federal Housing Policy Forum 2009: Oct. 23, Wilder Center, St. Paul

Housing initiatives are evolving rapidly, with new federal programs responding to the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression. To help the state keep abreast, the Minnesota Housing Partnership \(MHP\) is debuting a set of Federal Housing Pages—web tools for Minnesota communities, stakeholders, developers, advocates, and citizens to track federal housing programs and resources. Later, on Oct. 23rd, MHP convenes a Federal Housing Policy Forum to delve further into that landscape.

- MHP Federal Housing Pages

MHP's Federal Housing Pages track federal housing programs and resources for Minnesota. The new web pages provide a guide to a critical assortment of federal housing policies. Site visitors can click on links to housing topics such as rentals, homeownership, foreclosures, and energy—or community development, jobs, transportation, and other topics that overlap with housing. There's also an alphabetical list of topics. These pages offer an overview and a roadmap important for times of rapidly changing government actions and measures affecting Minnesota and the nation.
